TORRENTIAL SPRING RAINS DO DAMAGE IN PARTS OF TEXAS

RAINS RANGING FROM SIX TO TWELVE INCHES FELL DURING THE WEEK-END

By The Associated Press

Torrential spring rains ranging from six to 12 inches in spots sent creeks out of their banks, washed out bridges, and damaged crops and communication lines throughout Texas Sunday and Sunday night.

Regular communication from the south was cut from troops in the East Texas army maneuver area. Commercial telegraph agencies reported they were unable to get messages through because of damaged lines.

A dense cloud of fine dust with little wind, drifted over Fort Worth and Dallas before noon. No dust was reported by West Texas points.

At Port Arthur, in extreme southeast Texas, a 50-mile-an-hour wind brought an inch of rain. Crockett, 35 miles southeast of Palestine, had a six-inch rain which gorged small streams, washed out bridges, flooded lowlands and badly damaged young corn and cotton crops. Flood water washing over Highway 21 ten miles southwest of Crockett delayed traffic for three hours.

Damage was estimated at $50,000 in the vicinity of Taylor in South Central Texas, where rains up to 12 inches fell Sunday. No additional rain was in prospect Monday for either east or west Texas, and skies were clear or partly cloudy over most of the state.

The detailed report by regions:

North Texas—Three inch rain over Collin county, characterized by County Agent Jack McCullough as damaging. Creeks out of their banks, heavy wind flattened grain. Alfalfa badly damaged. Fort Worth 2.04, Dallas 1.58, beneficial to crops.

West Texas—Showers at Wichita Falls, Electra, Olney and other points seen as beneficial to grain and pastures. No hard rains reported.

Central and South Texas—San Antonio showers revived wilting corn and sorghums. Waco, 1.41. Corsicana, 1.25 with light hail which did no damage. Taylor, Granger, Bartlett, Holland, heavy rains with considerable damage to roads.

Athens, heavy rains, damaging roads; Paris, 2.10 inches; Tyler 1.19 of much benefit, with some wind damage; Austin 2.17, some hail but no material damage; Houston, one to two inches over entire county.

Heavy Rains Here During Week-end day ended in a downpour Sunday night. There was some hail in Corsicana and other sections of the county but no material damage has been reported here.

The rainfall for the 24-hour period ending at 7 o'clock Monday morning amounted to 1.25 inches, bringing the total for the month of April to 6.94 inches. The total for the year is 13.43 inches which is 1.86 inches above the average of 11.57 for the first four months of the year.

Louis and Godoy Signed to Meet On June 20th

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs announced today that he had signed Champion Joe Louis and Arturo Godoy of Chile to meet in a 15-round fight at Yankee stadium here on June 20.

Louis defeated the South American heavyweight in their first meeting here last February 9, but failed to score a knockout.

New Nazi Maps Designate North Sea As German

BERLIN, April 29.—(AP)—Maps being sold on the streets of Berlin to illustrate the northern war designate waters between the British Isles and Scandinavia as the "North, or German, Sea."

This is in line with the consistent contention of the German press that Great Britain no longer is mistress of the North Sea.

ALLIED TROOPS IN NORWAY STIFFENING THEIR DEFENSE LINES

BRITISH DENY GERMAN REPORTS OF SINKING OF WARSHIPS AND TRANSPORTS

LONDON, April 29.—(AP)—A British statement tonight reported that 28 German transports and supply ships had been sunk since April 8.

In addition, the statement said, ten German ships were "hit by torpedoes and probably sunk" and one named the Maine was scuttled.

It added:

"The German expeditionary force also suffered losses due to mines since the Nazis embarked upon their Scandinavian adventure."

LONDON, April 29.—(AP)—Allied troops in Norway were reported holding fast today against growing pressure while Britain sought to strengthen her hand with better diplomatic and trade relations with Hitler's axis partner, Italy, and the British navy claimed that three German supply transports had been torpedoed and sunk.

Heavy German air attacks on the coastal towns of Molde and Andalsnes, used by the allies for landings, were reported in a war office communique.

The war office also said there had been patrol activity in the Namsos area, where the allies also landed, but that the position of the opposing forces in the Gudbrandsdalen (valley) in Central Norway remained "unchanged."

GERMANS REPORTED MOVING TWO WAYS IN TRONDHEIM DISTRICT

ATTEMPT BEING MADE TRAP ALLIS BY SOUTHWARD-NORTHWARD MOVEMENT

BERLIN, April 29.—(AP)—Authoritative German sources tonight reported Nazi forces moving southward from Trondheim as well as northward toward that west coast port in an attempt to trap the Allies in Central Norway.

These sources said the two columns were within 25 miles of meeting.

Where they were expected to join was not divulged, however.

Apparently, the Germans intended ultimately to close in on Andalsnes, about 100 miles south of Srondheim, where Allied forces have been debarking. Andalsnes was reported bomber from the air again.

DNB reported today that heavy fighting was taking place between Nazi and Allied forces at several points in the Norwegian mountains.

The official German news agency admitting for the first time that German progress in Norway was meeting increasingly stiff opposition said that the British in Norway, after their "failures" in past

FIGHTING THAT MAY DECIDE SOUTHERN NORWAY CONTROL IS UNDER WAY

STOCKHOLM, April 29.—(AP)—German forces were reported tonight to have occupied Kvam, 35 miles southeast of Dombas, in their drive toward Trondheim but to have been repelled in a violent attack on the Steinkjer fort north of that Nazi-held port.

The Germans earlier had been reported stalled at Kvam in their surge north toward the vital Dombas railroad junction, one of the British-held barriers to the Nazis' attempted approach to Trondehim from the South.

Fragmentary dispatches reaching Stockholm newspapers gave no details of developments either there or at Steinkjer where, they said, German bombers supported the attack.

Reports from Narvik, on the distant northern front, said fighting there had developed primarily into guerilla warfare with the British bombarding the fort periodically, apparently to prevent the Germans from sending reinforcements over the railroad terminating at Narvik.

By ELMER W. PETERSON

STOCKHOLM, April 29.—(AP)—The allies today put up what may prove to be the first really organized resistance to Germany's effort to rush troops across Norway to bolster nazi-held Trondheim.

They were holding strategically-placed, strongly-defended machine-gun nests and light artillery positions guarding narrow mountain roads northeast of Dombas in the Gudbrandsdalen (valley) and between Roros and Storen in the Glomma river valley.

German troops, driving over snowy mountain roads, were reported to have reached the vital railway linking British bases at Dombas and Storen.

They were said to have engaged an allied force in the first phase of a battle expected to decide control of Southern Norway.

The fighting was reported sharp and some observers expressed belief a situation had been reached in which allied troops may be able to take advantage of strategic defense positions.

The Germans, however, already have proved their ability to advance swiftly over difficult mountain trails to outflank forces barring their way.

But this has been largely dependent on protection from German warplanes scouring a patch clear for the motorized units and, from the allied viewpoint, much depends on their air defenses.

AMERICAN SHIPPING AT HIGHEST POINT IN PAST TEN YEARS

SPECIAL NEUTRALITY UNIT CREATED IN UNITED STATES JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Disclosure that American shipping has reached its highest point in 10 years despite neutrality act restrictions coincided today with the creation of a special neutrality unit in the justice department.

Attorney General Jackson assigned to the new agency "responsibility for control" in prosecutions relating to neutrality, foreign enlistments, treason, sedition, espionage, sabotage "or kindred offenses."

The unit will work in "active contact" with guardians of neutrality in the state, war, navy and treasury departments, but will not supersede or overlap the work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation or the Civil Liberties unit. It will be headed by Lawrence M. C. Smith of Pennsylvania.

The treasury gave out figures to show that more American ships were carrying more freight to foreign ports than at any time in a decade.

In January and February a total of 1,042 American vessels cleared for foreign destinations with 2,562,000 tons of cargo. The comparable figures for January and February, 1939, were 932 ships carrying 2,264,000 tons.

The customs bureau termed this rise "striking in view of the diversion of American vessels from the war zone to Mediterranean, South America, African and Asiatic ports and the withdrawal of passenger liners from the North Atlantic."

Another treasury report showed that Norway had $66,986,000 in cash in the United States at the end of January. Denmark, invaded by Germany since that time without resistance, had $28,703,000.

These are the credits which were "frozen" by a presidential proclamation after Germany's march to the north.

Sweden's cash balance was $162,385,000, and Finland had $23,822,000 in this country.

CASHIER LORENZO BANK FOUND SLAIN IN VAULT AT NOON

BETWEEN TWO AND THREE THOUSAND TAKEN BY UNKNOWN BANDIT OR BANDITS

LORENZO, Crosby County, Texas, April 29.—(AP)—An unknown bandit or bandits left Irvin Bownds, cashier of Lorenzo State Bank, dead and took an estimated $2,000 to $3,000 in a daring raid on the bank shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The body of Bownds, 38, was found lying in a pool of blood in the vault of the bank by Woodrow Watts, bookkeeper of the bank.

A bullet apparently had killed him, said bank employes, but the body had not been moved at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Law enforcement officials of the South Plains began to converge upon the town to help solve the mysterious murder and robbery.

It was said from the bank early this afternoon that no one had been found who had seen anyone enter the bank or a car drive away.

Bownds went home at 12 o'clock for lunch. The bank usually closes for the lunch hour and had done so today. He left his home, his wife told bank officials, at 12 minutes until 1 o'clock.

He had been seen walking down the street at approximately 10 minutes until 1.

A few minutes later Watts walked into the bank. Two customers, Thomas G. Hendricks and Oscar Hughes, both of Lorenzo, had preceded Watts into the bank, but finding no one about were standing and waiting for someone when Watts entered.

Watts noticed the vault door was open and discovered Bownds' body.

All of the operating cash in the bank was taken, said Fred Wiese, vice president. H. F. Pearson is president.

Bownds, formerly of Ralls and member of a prominent family in this section, is survived by his wife and two children.

A brother, Gradie Bownds, and a sister, Miss Sadie Bownds, and his mother, Mrs. Susie M. Bownds, live in Lubbock. Another brother, Lester, lives in Ralls.

Representatives of the police department, the Texas rangers, the highway patrol and the sheriff's department in Lubbock left shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Former No. One O'Daniel Singer Has Joined Sadler

AUSTIN, April 29.—(AP)—Leon Huff, former No. 1 singer in Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's hillbilly band, has joined gubernatorial candidate Jerry Sadler's musical organization, it was learned here today.

Huff and Kermit Whalin, another former hillbilly musician, were said to have been with the Sadler band yesterday en route to a German-Bohemian picnic between Shiner and Moulton. The picnic was called off because of rain.

Beyond confirming that the youths had joined his band, Sadler had no comment.

O'Daniel, in his Sunday radio talk, claimed "professional politicians" were responsible for the departure of the two guitarists.

THOMPSON DECIDES NOT MAKE RACE FOR SEAT IN CONGRESS

MADE NO FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENT OF HIS POLITICAL PLANS, HOWEVER

AMARILLO, April 29.—(AP)—Texas Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson announced today his withdrawal from the 18th district congressional race. He did not say whether he planned to re-enter the Texas gubernatorial race.

Thompson announced as a candidate for congress soon after Rep. Marvin Jones was appointed to the court of claims. The railroad commissioner, runner-up in the governor's race in 1938, had planned to open his gubernatorial campaign May 1.

"The man who runs for congress should be willing to stay up there term after term so that he may gain in seniority and influence," Thompson said.

"I do not want to spend all my life in public office. Therefore, I am not going to run for congress."

Expected to Make Race For Governor

AUSTIN, April 29.—(AP)—Announcement of Ernest O. Thompson that he will not be a candidate for congress from the Panhandle district was interpreted by many observers as meaning that he is almost certain to run for governor.

Some admirers of Thompson reason that if he gets into the gubernatorial derby a run-off will be assured and that he stands a good chance of making the run-off.

AMON G. CARTER ANSWERS ICKES ON POLITICS OF TEXAS

THANKFUL FOR OTHER AID BUT FEELS TEXAS CAN RUN OWN POLITICS

FORT WORTH, April 29.—(AP)—Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher, told Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes today in an open letter that while Texas is grateful for his "good job" in helping with its oil problems, "we do not necessarily need the same kind of help x x x in respect to political problems in Texas at the moment."

Carter, in his 2,000-word reply to a letter from Ickes, copies of which the secretary sent Texas members of congress, said he was "touched" by Ickes' "solicitude for the freedom of Texas voters and subscribe fully to your obviously lately developed opinion that they are capable of acting for themselves without being told how."

Ickes' letter was in reply to an editorial published recently by the Fort Worth Star Telegram in which Ickes said he had been described as a "carpetbagger." The cabinet member said he understood that Carter and associates had sent political "carpetbaggers" into Wisconsin for the primary elections in behalf of the John Garner campaign.

Fails Get Connection.

"If there is any connection between oil regulation, or even PWA projects, and the question of whether Texas should be allowed peaceably to stand up for its own John Garner, I fail to get it," Carter responded. "But you see, down here we are just country folks. We get along as well as we do only because there are not many who are hard-hearted enough to take advantage of us. x x x."

Carter denied the Texas Garner-for-President movement is to defeat Roosevelt, as Ickes charged.

"I have no apology to make for supporting an outstanding Dem-

GERMANS THREATEN TO ISOLATE TROOPS ALLIES IN NORWAY

NAZIS FACE PROBLEM OF BREAKING THROUGH BRITISH STRENGTHENED LINES

By The Associated Press.

German forces were reported closing in from opposite directions tonight in an effort to squeeze allied forces in central Norway between two nazi columns.

Reports reaching Stockholm, said one nazi force, moving northward from Oslo, had taken Kvam, 35 miles southeast of Dombas, vital British-held railroad junction guarding that approach to German-held Trondheim.

Authorized sources in Berlin said another German force, striking south from Trondheim, was attempting to meet another northward moving column and was within 25 miles of its goal.

These reports and indications that the allied resistance is gaining strength pointed toward an impending major battle which may hold the key to Southern Norway's fate.

Another German attack, in the Steinjker sector north of Trondheim whether the British and Germans both have dug in, was said to have been repelled with heavy Nazi losses.

Reports in Stockholm said the Germans now faced the problem of breaking through a supposedly strong machine-gun and light artillery line the allies have drawn across the rocky Gudbrandsdalen (Valley) and Glomma River Valley.

Whether the Germans again will be able to climb around the defense positions by sending their columns over snowy mountain paths depends on the allies' ability to cope with the Nazi air power, these sources predicted.

Reports of allied concentrations, however, were regarded in Stockholm as evidence that the allies were alive to the situation.

DNB, official German news agency, reported the Nazis had captured 20,000 artillery shells, many portable wireless sets and other war material. The high command communique yesterday said that 241 officers, including "numerous English fliers," and 2,921 men had been captured in the Stavanger district of southern Norway. It did not say how many prisoners were Norwegians.

Air Attacks on Towns.

The British war office, in a late afternoon communique, said the Germans had attacked heavily from the air the towns of Andalsnes and Molde, allied landing places below Trondheim, but gave no details. In Gudbrandsdalo the war office announced, the position was unchanged.

Thrusting over snowy mountain roads the Germans were reported to have reached the railroad linking Dombas and Storen at a point where British troops met them in the first round of a battle which may decide control of southern Norway.

Both sides rushed up reinforcements, presaging a bitter battle. A lightning 40-mile advance enabled the Germans to strike at the railway.

On other Norwegian fronts the Germans were said to have halted and started digging in against allied attempt to dislodge them.

Britain announced three German supply ships had been sunk and said more allied troops had made landings at Andalsnes, despite strenuous German efforts to forestall them.

German Claims Denied

The Britis[illegible] issued a communique denying German claims that four cruisers and 11 transports had been sunk or severely damaged in the last 48 hours but acknowledged one trawler had been sunk and another set afire by bombs.

Germany said the British war-

NEW WEEK OF WAR IN NORWAY OPENS WITH GERMANS HOLDING MOST IMPORTANT PART NATION

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The twenty-first day of the battle of Norway finds the Germans occpying the southern and most important part of the country strongly and the Anglo-French Allies are faced with a formidable task in ousting them.

The struggle continues to center on possession of the strategic port and rail-head of Trondheim.

The Nazis last week capitalized the great advantage they secured by their surprise invasion and strengthened their hold on the south considerably. In some instances this was at the expense of the Allies in land engagements growing out of maneuvering for position in preparation for the big showdown.

There was no major clash, however, and neither side encountered disaster or scored striking victory. By the week-end the Allies had pulled up their socks and checked the Nazi advances towards Trondheim in most places.

One cardinal point seems to have become increasingly clear—that of air control which the Germans are able to maintain.

Thus far the Nazis have maintained their air supremacy in Norway. The success of their invasion has been largely the result of this factor.

Air Power Demonstrated

What we are witnessing is a concrete demonstration of what a powerful and well-handled air navy means to modern warfare.

It is important to remember that the Nazis had their surface navy rendered virtually impotent in the battles at the beginning of the invasion, and were deprived to a large extent of the use of the sea for communications with Norway.

Save for the great airforce the contest would have ended there. The Nazis made a virtue of their necessity, and threw their dependence on the flying force—or maybe

NEW TYPE OF EAR OPERATIONS REPORTED SUCCESSFUL IN MANY CASES IN RESTORING HEARING

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—(AP)—Successful results from an operation that fashions a "window" deep in the inner ear for the treatment of otosclerosis, a common type of deafness was reported today by surgeons of the Temple university Medical School.

In a two-year period, Dr. Matthew S. Ersner, professor of otology, reported, 21 patients who underwent the operation experienced immediate improvement in their hearing. In 15, however, the improvement lasted only eight or nine weeks, after which the hearing returned to pre-operation condition.

"Our conclusion is that even that margin of success justifies the operation in suitable cases," Dr. Ersner sid however.

In normal ears, sound waves shake the eardrum, which passes the vibrations through a chain of tiny bones—the "hammer," "anvil" and "stirrup"—through a window into the inner ear. The vibrations stir a fluid, the lymph, in which float the hair-like nerves endings which send the message to the brain.

In otosclerosis, a bony overgrowth fastens the "stirrup" solid in its window so that vibrations cannot get past.

The operation, devised by several European surgeons and Dr. Julius Lempert of New York, involves drilling a tiny window into the labyrinth, which houses the endings of the hearing nerve. The eardrum is cut partly from its moorings and fitted over the new window so that its vibrations can agitate the lymph directly.

MANNERS AND YOUTH

The intelligent and self-reliance of youngsers is one of the marvels of the present day. Adults admit freely that sons and daughters or nieces and nephews have a better practical understanding of life than they themselves had at the same age. Children may be passionately devoted to the comic section of daily newspapers, but they also read the news. Domestic politics and world wars are well within their scope of interest and opinion.

This has all seemed good to many of their elders. But one thing has troubled both parents and teachers. Rudeness has seemed to be an inevitable part of the freedom of action of youth. The question might be raised whether good manners among adults haven't suffered a set-back, too, but that isn't the immediate point. The point is that bad manners are so prevalant that something must be done about them.

At any rate, emphasis on true manners — meaning thoughtfulness of others and behavior which considers the rights of fellow beings —is finding a place in many public schools. One junior high has prepared its own "Code of Behavior," applying it by not rushing through halls, by not pushing and shoving on street cars and busses, by mannerly conduct at athletic contests and school assemblies.

The goal isn't artificial good manners, but the real thing, and when the young folks have added that to their other qualities, they'll have a combination to be proud of and hard to beat.

THE NARVIK SAGA

The great mystery so far in this war is the Norwegian seaport and ore-shipping town of Narvik. Now the British seem to have it and now the Germans, and now both or neither of them. The harbor is full of sunken ships and the hills are full of wandering troops and fleeing Norwegians, and the sky is full of warplanes, and the neighboring shores and forests all have their own secrets.

The armies and ships have been supposedly fighting for iron ore, but from the intensity and secrecy of the whole operation they might as well be fighting for fiords filled with oil and mountains of solid gold.

There's glamor in those hills and waters. There is also fear and hope and life and death and tense human struggle and war strategies which themselves are mysterious. It will be a great story when it can be told. There should be some new Kipling to tell it.

STUBBORN NEIGHBORS

The Dutch and Belgians are very unrealistic. They don't seem to understand at all what is going on around them. Why, the other day, when the Berlin government sent them a friendly warning to beware of an imminent Allied invasion of their territory, instead of strengthening their coast defenses they immediately started reinforcing their German border.

What can anybody who understands "realpolitik" do with such people?

Too many experts have been giving us mere hopes and hunches. But who can blame them? Nobody knows.

JUST FOLKS

GARDEN COVETOUSNESS

I do not think I covet in the old commandment way,
I don't begrudge my neighbor very much he owns, I'd say,
But a longing for possession seems to flood my being through
When I read the gay description of a marigold that's new.

I am certain I've no yearning to possess my neighbor's ox,
But I'd like to have a little of his luck at raising phlox.
And those catalogs at springtime with the blossoms they display Set me coveting their splendors in a truly sinful way.

I'd like everything that's pictured in the flower line, A to Z.
From anemone to zinnia I go roaming like a bee.
And I'm wishing I could own it
—every bud that's ever bloomed.
If it's sinful thus to covet, I am absolutely doomed!

Lake Sarez in Soviet Central Asia, is called the "youngest lake in the world." It was formed when one of the Pamir peaks toppled and dammed the Murgab river.

PUBLIC MORALITY JUNKED.

There used to be such a thing as "military honor." A soldier prided himself on speaking the truth, disdaining to lie even to an enemy, unless it were an extreme situation involving the life of his country, but that spirit is rapidly disappearing from the world. It disappears in proportion as the Nazi system spreads.

Hitler recognizes no code of honor. He turns public morality inside out and upside down. He practices literally and unblushingly, in the eyes of all the world, the shameless principles that the world refused to take seriously when he first announced them in "Mien Kampf."

Today, in so far as prevails in the countries he brings under his sway, neither military nor political honor is left. And when they vanish, what must become of private morality, by which people have been used to preserve some measure of self-respect even when forced to act shamelessly in public affairs.

This breakdown of public morality is seen perhaps more vividly than ever before in European history, in the accounts of Hitler's seizure of Denmark and Norway, especially the latter. A brave, honest and patriotic nation was betrayed evidently by its own innocence and lack of suspicion. The story of Nazi forgery, lies and corruption, by which Hitler's emissaries and troops were enabled to enter Norway and take its capital and deprive the unsuspecting Norwegians of the means of resistance, is even more shameful than the uses that the invaders make of their unearned conquest.

And this is the kind of thing against which all civilization, including ours, must be on guard from now on.

OUR STAKE IN EAST INDIES

Most Americans thought Secretary Hull's statement about the Dutch East Indies was fair and unwarlike. And though the region in question is far away, we ourselves have a present stake in its peace and security, aside from our general desire for international peace and honesty.

The Dutch East Indies are pretty close to our Philippines, commanding the whole region to the southeast, south and southwest. Thus possession of the East Indies by any hostile power would make the Philippines untenable, for us or the Filipinos themselves.

Approximately 350 Navarro county youths attended the annual 4-H Clubs rally held at the Palace Theatre Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Paul H. Miller, county judge, was the principal speaker for the occasion.

The program and its arrangement was handled by Ruth York of Richland, representing the girls clubs, and Duane Womack of Corbet, representing the boys.

Miss Linda Sims of Corsicana led the group in a sing-song.

The Union High Club string band also appeared on the program.

Entertainment At Richland Wednesday

An entertainment and pie supper has been announced for Richland on Wednesday night, May 1, for the benefit of the Girls' 4-H Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The general public is invited and a special invitation has been extended to all candidates.

Bazette 4-H Club.

The 4-H Club met recently at the Bazette club house. There were fourteen girls present.

The girls have started on their dresses and two of them have completed theirs. We want to have everyone of them at the next meeting.

The reason Miss Rettiger could not meet with us, she had to go to Dallas. But we hope she can be with us the next meting.—Reporter.

NUMBER OF SCENIC POINTS INTEREST NEAR CORSICANA

Attention of Corsicana wild flower lovers has been directed by district highway officials and others to a number of scenic points of interest in this vicinity.

S. E. Baker, district beautification engineer, was in the city Friday afternoon on a tour of inspection and reported numerous spots of unusual attractiveness along several of the main roads near Corsicana and including U. S. Highway 287, U. S. Highway 75 especially between Richland and Fairfield, Highway 31 east and west, and Highway 14 between Richland and Wortham.

Under the direction of Mr. Baker and Mrs. Jerry Stillwell of Dallas, district chairman of the civic organizations co-operating, the annual wild flower for this area will be presented in Denton on May 17-18.

Considerable attention has been drawn by the right-of-way along highway 75 near the maintenance warehouse in Corsicana where several hundred rose bushes supplied by members of local garden clubs are now in full bloom.

Kerens Exes Downed Bobcat Eleven 31-0

Kerens Seniors Thursday afternoon defeated the 1940 Bobcats, 31-0, in the annual tilt to end the spring training sessions.

The seniors, composed of the boys finishing their high school careers, and representing most of the boys and carried the Bobcat standards to bi-district honors in 1939, were coached by Rev. Joe Everheart, pastor of the Kerens Presbyterian church. The Rev. Mr. Everheart organized the first Kerens Bobcat eleven in 1922 and coached the club for several years.

Coach Smith handled the 1940 prospects.

Forty-one Pigs In First Three Litters Duroc Jersey Sow

MERCEDES, April 26.—(AP)—Forty-one pigs in the first three litters of "Lady Rio," a registered duroc jersey sow, is enough encouragement for any hog breeder to stay in the pork production business.

This young sow started its farrowing career with a litter of eight pigs when eight months old, increased its second litter to fifteen and its third, born a few days ago, to eighteen... The animal is owned by J. C. Lear, former city clerk of Mercedes, who said he had no regrets that he forsook his political job for a home on the farm. "As long as they come in litters like that, I should be able to show a profit," he opines.

SINGER WITH BAND OF GOVERNOR WALKS OUT MYSTERIOUSLY

AUSTIN, April 26.—(AP)—Leon Huff, big blond singer with Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's band, today resigned as a member of the band.

He also resigned as an employe of the W. Lee O'Daniel News, weekly publication recently started by the Governor.

He was the second member of the governor's band to "walk out." Some months ago a girl singer known as "Texas Rose" quit.

"Leon" wouldn't say why he was resigning.

The governors secretary said "it is news to me." Governor O'Daniel was in San Antonio for the Battle of Flowers.

Known to thousands throughout Texas because of his singing over the radio and from the O'Daniel campaign bus, "Leon" tersely informed the governor in a letter:

"I hereby tender my resignation as an employee of the W. Lee O'Daniel News and as a member of your Hillbilly Band, effective as of this date."

When he walked into the Capitol press room "Leon" waved a handful of copies of his letter to the governor, and cried:

"Vote for Sadler!"

Later he declined to elaborate.

Others about the capital said the singer had been urging people to vote for Jerry Sadler, member of the railroad commission and candidate for governor.

Asked if he had anything to do with the resignation, Sadler replied succinctly:

"I did not."

In the 1938 campaign, when he was elected to the commission, Sadler also had a string-orchestra which played "hillbilly" and other tunes.

"Leon" has been a member of the Hillbilly orchestra for nine years. Every Sunday since O'Daniel's inauguration in January, 1939, he has sung in the governor's Sunday morning broadcasts from the executive mansion.

Last summer he became an employe of the state adjutant general's department, but resigned this position, the department said on April 3.

Listeners-in on O'Daniels daily radio program from the mansion this morning reported that, for the first time in years, Leon was absent and that O'Daniel remarked:

"Where's Leon this morning? This is the first time he's been late. Possibly he didn't wake up in time or ran out of gas getting here. Or, maybe he's out getting subscriptions to the W. Lee O'Daniel News."

Huff was the string-band's leader.

SAN ANTONIO, April 26.—(AP)—Headed by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, military and civic leaders, the three-mile long Battle of Flowers parade, climaxing San Antonio's Fiesta de San Jacinto celebration, was to start at 3:30 this afternoon.

More than 200 entries were to follow the parade route, including 60 high school bands, drum and bugle corps, and military bands. Ornate floats, covered with every type of flower and blossom known to the old south, were to add color and beauty to the long procession.

Corsicana Woman Is Injured In Accident Near Dawson Friday

Mrs. J. H. Langridge, West Eleventh avenue, received cuts and bruises to the right arm Friday morning near Dawson on Highway 31 when the car in which she was en route to Waco turned over at a sharp curve. After treatment at the Navarro Clinic, Mrs. Langridge returned to her home.

Other occupants of the car escaped injury.

The car was damaged extensively.

Farmer Sets Record For Catching Hawks

VAN ALSTYNE, April 26.—(AP)—Frank Kenner, Van Alstyne farmer has set a high score in catching field hawks, which are difficult to catch on account of wildness, wiseness and discretion.

Kenner has caught 36 hawks, 24 one week and 12 the week before. He said the birds would have destroyed at least two chickens apiece making a total of 72 fowls saved under the right conditions.

COTTON GROWERS OF SIX COMMUNITIES HEAR U. S. AGENT

Cotton growers representing the Dawson, Emhouse, Barry, Purdon, Kerens and Wortham communities attended the Navarro Co-Operative Council meeting in Corsicana Thursday and heard F. C. McClendon from the Dallas office of the Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. department of agriculture, explain the free cotton classification and market news service now available to groups of growers organized to improve the quality of cotton.

This service, free of cost to the grower, includes a grade and staple report of each bale of cotton ginned by community improvement group members- consisting of farmers who plant all or a part of their crop in the adopted variety selected by the group. In addition, valuable marketing news service is provided the membership. In event of a government loan on cotton, these reports are accepted by the lending agency, which would mean a saving of 25c per bale on the loan cotton.

County Agent H. C. Robinson says that a committee from each of these communities was provided application blanks and will start contacting other growers for the sign-up and organization of the improvement groups which must be completed by August 1.

For Congress

LUTHER A. JOHNSON

The Corsicana Semi-Weekly Morning Light is authorized to announce the candidacy of Hon. Luther A. Johnson for re-election to congress from the Sixth Texas district.

No commendation of Luther Johnson is necessary to place his name favorably before the people of the eight counties of his district. He knows most of his people, and they know him. He has served them honestly, courageously and efficiently during the years required for the development of statesmanship through which every member of congress must pass before he becomes outstanding and a leader of big parts.

Mr. Johnson has certainly developed into one of the outstanding members of congress. He is chairman of the Texas delegation in congress, a position of honor and great influence; he is the ranking member of the foreign affairs committee of the house of representatives and led the contest for the present neutrality law, carrying it through the house of representatives over terrific opposition; and the wisdom of his position has been evident since that bill became a law in further insuring our nation against entry into the European conflict.

Mr. Johnson, by nature, is against turmoil, strife and war, and the people of his district, and of Texas and the nation are with him; and no truer or stronger leader for peace can be found in Texas than Luther Johnson. He is cautious, he is fair and he thinks beyond current events and conditions, with a clear grasp of results that follow miscalculated actions.

Luther Johnson is the most modest member of congress. He never sings his own praise, but students of activities in congress find Johnson is as highly regarded by his colleagues there as any man in congress.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, while a member of the house and on the committee on foreign affairs with Johnson, learned the quality of man Johnson is and frequently calls Johnson for conference on tremendous affairs that shake the world, and he trusts Johnson's clear thinking and judgment.

Luther Johnson is in the prime of life, well preserved, strong mentally and physically, has the accumulated wisdom of great study and experience, and is prepared to serve the people of this district well and creditably, and we forecast his re-election by his constituents with their usual enthusiasm and unanimity of support.

In fact, Luther Johnson gets stronger in the esteem of his constituents with each year; and we believe his capacity to serve his people wisely and with influence in congress grows with each term of service.

SUPREME COURT

employes in order to obtain contracts with the federal government.

Justice McReynolds dissented, but wrote no opinion.

The court postponed a decision until at least next Monday on litigation involving interpretation of the 1890 Sherman anti-trust act.

It agreed, however, to review a controversy involving the liability of officers of a labor union to production under the anti-trust laws. In this case, the Eastern Missouri federal district court dismissed anti trust indictments against William L. Hutcheson and three other officers of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

Murphy Did Not Participate

Justice Murphy, former attorney general, did not participate in the action on the Hutcheson case in which the union officials were charged with conspiring to restrain the interstate trade of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., St. Louis beer manufacturer.

Black said the litigation "makes it fitting to remember that 'the interference of the courts with the performance of the ordinary duties of the executive departments of the government would be productive of nothing but mischief'."

The labor department order was issued under provisions of the 1936 Walsh-Healey act, which require companies selling the government more than $10,000 worth of supplies to pay their employes the prevailing minimum wage for their "locality."

The steel companies contended the labor department had included 13 states, part of a fourteenth and the District of Columbia within one "locality."

In reply, the government argued that if "locality" were confined to a small geographical area it would "reduce the act to a futile gesture."

NORWEGIAN

progress there were interpreted here as evidence that allied resistance is developing.

The Norwegian radio broadcast an announcement that a German column had struck at the railway at Hjerkinn 20 miles north of Dombas and about 80 miles south of Storen.

Success of the German attempt to cut the rail line at this point would isolate the British force at Storen, which is exposed to attack by German troops concentrated at Trondheim 35 miles north.

Both the British and Germans were reported rushing reinforcements to the Dombas front, and Swedish sources expressed belief that both sides were preparing to throw every ounce of strength into a decisive battle.

Nazi Strike at Hjerkinn

The German force striking at Hjerkinn is an offshoot of a column which during the past week has pushed northward up the Glomma river valley past Roros, 195 miles from Oslo.

To reach the Dombas-Storen railway the nazi troops had to travel approximately 40 miles over a narrow mountain road extending westward frov Alvdal, which is 45 miles south of Roros.

Despite the resistance of the Norwegians, who reported last night they had engaged the Germans at Foldal, midway between Hjerkinn and Alvdal, the nazis apparently reached the Dombas-Storen railway with lighting speed.

The British war office announced in London last night that more troops had been landed at Andalsnes despite German air attacks, and it was reported that these had been rushed by rail to Dombas, 65 miles southeast of the debarkation point.

No Change at Narvik

No change was reported in the situation at the far northern port of Narvik, where a comparatively small German force was said to be virtually surrounded by British and Norwegian troops.

Fresh bursts of fighting were reported in southern Norway, however, as the Germans sought to establish land communications between Oslo and their base at Bergen, on the west coast.

The Norwegians acknowledged the loss of Voss, 50 miles east of Bergen on the Bergen-Oslo railroad. They also admitted they had fallen back from Honefoss, which is situated on the same railway some 30 miles from Oslo, and at Kongsberg, further south.

Activity of both the German and British air forces kept pace with the quickening tempo of developments on land.

Work will be resumed Tuesday morning on the works project at the office of Lyda Reed, county clerk, in the governmental program of refiling, rejacketing and re-arranging the records in the office.

This project was halted 30 days ago before the work was completed.

Eight persons are employed on this project.

LEWIS IN APPEAL TO NEGROES COME INTO HIS PARTY

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(AP)—With an appeal to the organized negroes of the nation to come under his political banner, John L. Lewis took another step today toward what he obviously hopes will be an influential position in the presidential campaign.

In the same hall where he beckoned the American Youth Congress to his support last February, the CIO leader last night invited the National Negro Congress to consider a working agreement or affiliation with labor's Non-Partisan League, the political organization which he heads.

Lewis demanded "that the political leaders of the nation stand by and deliver or give way to those who can."

He charges that the democratic administration had failed to fulfill its 1936 platform pledge to provide jobs for the unemployed.

Cheering broke out among the delegates and visitors in the auditorium—estimated to number 3,000-when he said:

"I want the help of the negroes of this country. I want their help and their co-operation with the labor movement of America."

John P. Davis, secretary of the Congress which heard Lewis, estimated that it represented 3,000,000 negroes, or one-fifth of the negro population.

From its president, A. Philip Randolph, the Congress heard that the communist party was not concerned with labor and the negro, that the republican party was "no longer a progressive force," and that the democratic party was "no better."

Lewis' speech shared attention with a story in the Washington Post saying that Secretary Ickes had written Amon G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and a Garner-for-president supporter:

"The movement, in which you are such a shining light, is not for the nomination of any particular man. It is to defeat Roosevelt."

The paper said that Ickes, ardent advocate of a third term for the president, had written Carter and sent copies of his letter to the Texas congressional delegation after the publisher had criticized him editorially. Carter, the Post said, had accused Ickes of "carpet-bagging" tactics in connection with his recent visit to Texas.

The interior department chief denied having talked politics on various visits to the state.

He predicted that President Roosevelt would be re-elected easily in November and that Carter would be among the first to rush "to the pie counter."

knowledged that two British trawlers the Hammond and Larwood, had been lost to German bombs, but said there were no casualties. It denied German claims that British warships and 13 transports had been sunk or damaged in the preceding 48 hours.

Germany's "determined attempt to render the waters of the Norwegian coast untenable have been attended with but slight results," the comumnique said.

In what the British described as a "very friendly" conference, Foreign Secrtary Lord Halifax and Italian Ambassador Giustppe Bastianini on Friday discussed the resumption of trade talks.

Diplimatic observers said that a British delegation might shortly visit Rome.

Question of Contraband

A source close to the foreign office said the question of contraband was included in the conference and added that the British are "anxious" to do their best to meet any points of difference "the Italian government can reasonably bring to our notice."

Above the Norwegian battlegrounds, British fighter planes were reported challenging bombers which have been harrassing allied forces.

The Norwegian telegraph agency reported air battles on a large scale over Lake Engeset, near the port of Alesund, midway between Bergen and Trondheim, two Norwegian ports held by the Germans. Several machines were seen to crash, it said.

(Alesund is 40 miles directly west of Andalsnes, where the allies have landed part of their expeditionarly force.)

The Norwegian agency said German air attacks on British warships were repulsed and allied transports were arriving daily.

A British source said the Germans were pushing up the Osterdalen (eastern valley) against allied troops south of Trondheim in an effort to break through and link the Oslo and Trondheim forces.

The situation was reported unchanged at Dombas and Kvam, in the Gudbrandsdalen (valley) in centary Norway, and at Voss, which the allies were reported holding with strong defensive positions.

(A Norwegian communique yesterday said that German troops had occupied Voss, 50 miles east of Bergen on the Bergen-Oslo railroad. Germany also has reported the capture of Voss.)

Prime Minister Chamberlain is expected to answer opposition criticism in the house of commons tomorrow with a war statement.

Some members of parliament, anxious over the allied military campaign in Norway, want a secret parliamentary session unless Chamberlain makes a full statement.

EVERYTHING!

You can have V-8 performance—and gas economy, too!

An 85 h.p. Ford gave 24.92 miles per gallon in the annual official Gilmore-Yosemite road test, open to all cars. This was best mileage of all standard-equipped cars in this class!

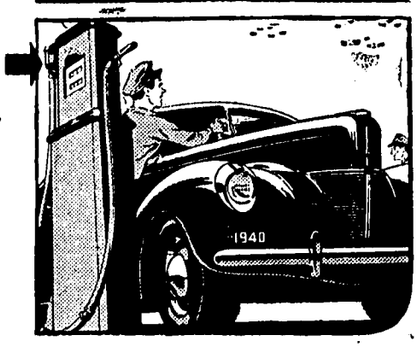

You can have easy-handling—with big-car room and ride!

Everyone knows how easy it is to drive a Ford. But no one could know, till he gets inside, how big this Ford is in leg-room, seat-room, knee-room . . . nor what a thrillingly soft, steady, big-car ride it gives!

You can have low cost upkeep—and enjoy real fine-car features!

You shift gears on a Ford with the easy-acting type finger-tip shift used on costly cars. You get a semi-centrifugal clutch giving lower pedal pressure at shifting speeds, also typical of costly cars . . . to say nothing of the biggest hydraulic brakes ever used on a low-cost car. Most of the visitors returned to their homes early Sunday afternoon.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

By VERONICA DENGEL

HIPS AND ABDO MEN EXERCISE

Hips and abdomen benefit by this exercise which is illustrated today. Lie flat on a bare floor, drawing one foot up so that the sole of the foot rests on the floor. Arms are extended as shown in the picture. Now, supporting yourself on your shoulders and the foot that is placed on the floor, lift the body up, arching the back and stretching high as possible. Twist the body but keep the shoulders flat on the floor, and then drop the hips hard against the floor. Raise, twist, and drop to the other side. Raise, twist and drop again to the other side. Each time you must drop the body hard on the floor so that the hip and thigh will thump. The rhythm should be even—like this: On county of one: Raise. At two—twist and drop. At three—raise; and at four—twist and drop on the other side. Repeat this ten times. Then switch the feet, and do it ten times more.

Draw one foot up so its sole rests on floor

Be sure the body is raised in a high arch each time. You see, the higher you raise—the harder and further you will drop!

SPECIAL MEETING OF COUNTY DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE FRIDAY

DISTRIBUTION OF SUPPLIES FOR PRECINCT PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS

A special meeting of the Navarro County Democratic Executive committee will be held at the county courtroom in the court house Friday morning, May 3, at 10 o'clock. The meeting has been called by N. S. Crawford, Kerens, chairman of the county committee, for the purpose of confirming two newly-appointed precinct chairmen and for the distribution of supplies to the chairmen for the holding of the princinct presidential conventions the following day, Saturday, May 4, 1940, in the 48 precincts of the county.

Under Article 316 of the Revised Civil Statutes, the presidential precinct conventions must be held in the precincts between the hours of 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. The precinct chairmen will conduct the conventions and after organization is effected and a secretary elected, delegates to the county presidential convention will be elected. The officals of the precinct conventions will make a report to the county chairman following the conventions.

Precincts are allowed one delegate for every 25 votes or major fraction thereof cast at the last gubernatorial election to the county convention.

Based on the above-mentioned law, there are 134 delegates allowed in the 48 precincts of Navarro county, to be selected at the precinct convention for the county convention, May 7.

Counties are allowed one delegate to the state convention for every 300 votes cast or major fraction thereof, and as there were 3,296 votes cast in the gubernatorial race in Navarro county, Nov. 8, 1938, this county will be allowed 11 delegates to the state Democratic convention. There were 3,258 democratic, 35 republican, two socialist and one communist ballots in the November, 1938, election.

Following are the 1938 gubernatorial vote by precincts and the county convention delegates allowed:

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Pickett Club

Ice is no longer considered a luxury but a necessity, Miss Clara E. Rettiger, Navarro county home demonstration agent told the women of the Pickett Home Demonstration Club at their meeting in the home of Mrs. D. J. Martin, April 22.

Miss Rettiger continued the discussion by telling the advantages and disadvantages in buying of different type of refrigerators. Before selecting a refrigerator, one of the first questions to be decided is whether an ice refrigerator or a mechanical type operated by electricity, gas or kerosene will be most satisfactory for locality, second, select size suitable for storage considering the price of box and upkeep, according to the cheapest and most economical refrigeration. Glass containers with slightly rounded corners and with a flat cover are preferable for storage of food for refrigeration.

During the social hour the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. W. Martin and Mrs. Gene Caskey served chicken salad sandwiches, cookies and iced tea to Miss Rettiger, four visitors, Mrs. Andrew G. Steele, Mrs. Lelia Martin, Mrs. Pearl Gilmore and Miss Evaline Gilmore; fourteen old members and one new member, Miss Annie Palmri.

Mrs. Ottis McLaughlin has joined our club recently, but was not present.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Gene Caskeys, May 13.—Reporter.

Several Injured In Auto Collision On Hiway 31 Saturday

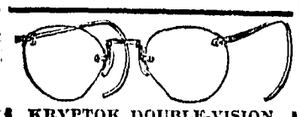

Several persons were injured in an automobile crash on Highway 31 four miles east of Corsicana Saturday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock. None was seriously injured.

An automobile driven by James T. Foster of Corsicana, who was en route to Longview, figured in a crash involving a car driven by Leo B. Walsh, Beaumont salesman. Walsh, accompanied by his wife, who was en route to Fort Worth.

Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Walsh were admitted to the Navarro clinic for treatment while other occupants received first aid. Mrs. Foster sustained a sprained left foot and other injuries. Mrs. Walsh was discharged from the clinic Saturday night while Mrs. Foster was able to leave the clinic Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster were accompanied by Mrs. Harry Mason and Alymer White. Their injuries are not serious. Both automobiles were demolished.

The injured were rushed to the clinic in ambulances.

weeks, "obviously had received orders to strengthen their resistance," but the agency said the firmer British stand "had not halted" Nazi drives.

DNB reported that the Nazis in capturing six additional Norwegian batteries had seized 20,000 artillery shells a large number of portable wireless sets and quantities of miscellaneous war materials.

Berlin yesterday claimed officially that in the Stavanger district, which has been the target of repeated British air attacks, the Nazis had taken 241 officers including "numerous English fliers," and 2,921 men. The communique did not say how many of these prisoners were Norwegian.

Stavanger is in southwest Norway and previously had not been represented as a region of large land operations.

Confederate Memorial Day Observed Sunday By U. D. C. Chapter

Members of Navarro chapter 108, United Daughters of the Confederacy observed Confederate Memorial Day, Sunday, April 28, at Kinsloe House at 4 p. m., with a most interesting and impressive program, under the supervision of Mrs. Sanford Bingham.

The club lounge and the Autry-Kelly auditorium were made unusually attractive with beautiful bouquets of red roses, and others of mixed spring flowers, and clusters of Confederate flags.

Mrs. Bingham presided and presented the Rev. Allen A. Peacock, pastor of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church, who in turn presented his brother, the Rev. B. L. Peacock, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Ferris, who gave the invocation.

The Chamber of Commerce quartet, with Mrs. Sidney Breitz as accompanist, opened the program with the song, "Jesus, Pilot Me."

Miss Jewell Albritton gave a reading "A Tribute to Robert E. Lee" by Julia Ward Howe, which was read in Richmond, Va., on the one hundredth anniversary of his birth.

Mrs. Bingham read resolutions on the death of deceased members, there having been two within the past year—Mrs. Doke Roberts, Dallas and Corsicana, and Mrs. J. J. McClellan— the resolutions committee having been composed of Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. J. S. Callicutt and Mrs. Bell White.

Mrs. W. A. Hammett was to have paid a tribute to the living members of Camp Winkler—Messrs. George Kent and M. H. Wolfe of this city, and George Speed of Kerens—but due to the downpour of rain at the program hour, was unable to be present. Mrs. Bingham, in announcing Mrs. Hammett's part on the program, paid a tribute of love to the three beloved veterans.

This was followed by the quartet singing appropriately "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground."

The Rev. Mr. Peacock, the speaker of the afternoon, was presented and gave a most impressive memorial address, reading the 112th Psalm as his Scripture, and basing his message on the latter part of the Psalm, "The righteous shall be in everlasting remomberance." In closing his address, he read the poem, "The Blue and the Gray," which was most appropriate.

This was followed by the quartet singing "Crossing the Bar," and in closing the program, Ralph Dickson sounded taps, which was answered in the distance by M. C. Dickson. Scarcely an eye was dry when the last notes of the bugle died away.

ship had been damaged off Narvik and central Norway.

While the Germans were claiming new success in Norway, the leader of the nazi labor front, Robert Ley, proclaimed solidarity of the Rome-Berlin axis for future "victory" in a speech at a Cologne machine plant.

He lumped Britain and France as common enemies of Germany and Italy. He challenged the allies' right to possessions in the Mediterranean.

In Rome, meanwhile, it was announced that Dino Alfieri, regarded there as a pro-German fascist, had been named ambassador to Germany to succeed Bernardo Attolico. The two envoys exchanged posts, Attolico taking Alfieri's former assignment as Italian ampassador to the Vatican.

Discuss Trade Relations

In London, Britain and Italy discussed resuming trade negotiations which have been suspended since a dispute in February over British seizures of German coal being shipped to Italy. A meeting Friday between British Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax and Italian Ambassador Giuseppe Bastianini was described as "very friendly."

The embattled Norwegian government, from secret headquarters, issued a statement thanking the British, French and Polish governments for their aid and declared resistance against Germany shall continue "until the usurpers have been hurled out of the country."

Halvdan Koht, Norway's foreign minister, and Carl J. Hambro, president of parliament, declared untrue Germany allegations that with Norwegian consent the allies had planned to land troops in Norway before the German invasion.

Secret Session

A movement grew among some members of the British parliament for a secret session unless Prime Minister Chamberlain makes a public statemement Tuesday on progress of the allied forces in Norway.

Though uneasiness was expressed over Scandinavian border reports that the allied forces were ill-equipped, there was no evidence that Britains opposition parties planned to make political capital of any reverses in the Norwegian campaign.

Under cover of heavy artillery preparation, German infantry attacked French positions west of the Vosges on the western front yesterday, but were driven back before reaching their objective, the French high command said today. Losses were reported on both sides, but the French did not estimate the casualties. The fighting, though local in scope, was described as sharp.

On the other side of the world, the Chinese reported new successes against the Japanese invaders on several fronts.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. HOLLOWAY SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Mrs. Helen M. Holloway, aged 78 years, who died at the Navarro Clinic early Saturday morning after a several days' illness, were held from the Roane Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The rites were conducted by Rev. M. Dick Lowrey and Rev. J. B. Weathers, Methodist ministers. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

A native of Tennessee, Mrs. Holloway had resided in Navarro county for the past 45 years.

Surviving are four sons, A. B. Holloway, J. G. Holloway and Graham Holloway, all of Corsicana; W. M. Holloway, Lubbock; four daughters, Mrs. G. L. Jackson, Mrs. O. C. Goodwin, Mrs. Hugh Cummins, and Miss Exie Holloway, all of Corsicana; a sister, Mrs. Emma Huey, Oklahoma City; 18 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Grandsons were pallbearers.

Honorary pallbearers were stewards of the Roane Methodist church and friends of the family.

Corley Funeral Home directed the arrangements.

JOHNSTON

was prominent in the activities of the younger social set here.

Officials reported that Allen York, night patrolman, arrived at the scene of the fire about the time Mrs. Johnston made her escape from the house. She reported her husband was attempting to follow her to safety and apparently went to a rear door in confusion instead of going out at the front entrance.

Fire department officials reported that Jack Morris, fireman, entered the home through a window and rescued Johnston when the flames prevented entrance through the front door from which Mrs. Johnston had escaped.

Trapped By Flames.

Johnston was reported to have been lying down on the floor when he was rescued, attempting to save his life by holding his face near the floor after he realized he was trapped by the flames.

Fire department officials stated Monday the origin of the fire was unknown. The loss was estimated at $7,500.

Johnston was an official of the American Well and Prospecting Company. His father, the late H. G. Johnston, Sr., was one of the organizers of the concern.

Joe E. Butler, president of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, Monday said the regular meeting of the directors of the association, scheduled for Tuesday morning, had been postponed until later in the week out of respect to Mr. Johnston's death.

Operations at the American Well and Prospecting Company were suspended following Mr. Johnston's death until Wednesday.

The First National Bank will also be closed during the funeral hour Tuesday morning officials reported. Mrs. Johnston, Sr., is a director of the bank.

Surviving are his wife, formerly Miss Mary Gibson; mother, Mrs. H. G. Johnston, Sr.; two brothers, Eliot Johnston and L. N. Johnston, and a sister, Mrs. Lowell Estes, all of Corsicana, and other relatives.

Following the death of her husband early Monday, Mrs. Johnston left the hospital where she was a patient.

Corley Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Tax Assessor-Collector.

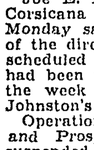

In another place in today's paper will be found the formal announcement of E. F. (Mose) Wells as a candidate for the office of assessor and collector of taxes in Navarro county subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

Mr. Wells is a native of Navarro county and was born near Kerens. He now makes his home in Corsicana. He taught school for thirty-five years, most of the time in Navarro county. From 1927 to 1930 he held the office of tax assessor.

In making his announcement Mr. Wells stated he is grateful for past favors and "will thank you for any kindness you may show me in my race for the above mentioned office."

"I respectfully request your vote and influence in my race for assessor-collector," Mr. Wells said.

MACKENZIE

they would have done this in any event. Acting with speed, they seized all the worth-while airports of Norway, thus ham-stringing the Allies for the moment.

The Germans have been able to move thousands of badly needed reinforcements by air transport, the Allies being unable to stop this because of the excessive flying distances from Britain and France. Not only that, but the Nazis also have flown equipment and supplies—even artillery—into Norway, and they have harrased the Allies in their landing operations.

Continue to Land Forces

However, the Anglo-French brotherhood have continued to land forces above and below Trondheim, and finally have been able to establish some sort of airports from which to operate. The creation of landing fields in an achievement of great moment and one which should stiffen the Allied push immediately.

As regards the race for Trondheim, the Nazis are holding the city itself but thus far have been unable to reach it with columns of troops which are driving northward from the Oslo region through the snow-filled valleys and rugged mountain passes.

The Allies have been landing their expeditionary forces at Namsos, 85 miles northeast of Trondheim, and at Andalsnes, 100 miles southwest of Trondheim. From Namsos and Andalsnes allied columns are swinging southwest and northeast with the object of ensuring control of the strategic railway between Trondheim and Dombas, intercepting the Nazi columns from the south, and finally assaulting Trondheim itself.

The Germans this morning were reported to have reached the railroad above Dombas with a column and a battle appeared developing. A Nazi success here would be a hard blow to the Allies as it would prevent a union of the two sections of the expeditionary force.

THOMPSON

first primary two years ago, is seeking re-election. Opponents include former Gov. Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson, Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Highway Commissioner Harry Hines and State Representative Albert L. Derden.

Some observers contend that Mrs. Ferguson and Sadler will garner many votes which went to O'Daniel two years ago and that a repetition of the governor's first primary victory of 1938 therefore is unlikely. Friends of O'Daniel counter with assertions that he is stronger than two years ago.

Thompson was runner-up to O'Daniel in 1938, reecibing 231,630 votes as against 573,166 for the winner.

The former Amarillo mayor made his decision to run for congress before Mrs. Ferguson announced for governor. Whether her entry into the race influenced his change of mind is not known.

Thompson never had intended to start his campaign for governor until May 1. He plans a talk on governmental problems next Friday night over a statewide radio network.

Even though Thompson should stay out of this year's campaigns, he would continue as a member of the important state railroad commission. His term in that office does not expire until Dec. 31, 1942. The Amarilloan has been mentioned as a probable candidate for governor in 1942 if not in 1940.

NYA WORKERS FROM ALL COUNTY PROJECTS PLAN YOUTH FORUMS

National Youth Administration workers from all projects in the county will meet at the Corsicana YMCA Monday night to organize the first of a series of youth forums, the purpose of which is to create a more progressive vocational - educational program.

Meeting in connection with the NYA youths will be members of the YMCA between the ages of 16 and 25 and members of other similar youth organizations. Adult leaders are especially invited to participate.

The forum is scheduled to open at 7 o'clock in the club rooms of the association. The program will be devoted entirely to registration, and the election of a chairman.

The forum will continue for four consecutive Monday nights with several outstanding youth authorities addressing the assemblies.

CARTER

ocratic candidate for the presidency of the United States," the Fort Worth publisher declared.

Replies to Taunt.

"Let's not befuddle the issue. The results in Wisconsin and Illinois have nothing to do with Texas supporting John Garner."

To Ickes' taunt that Carter would be among the first to "hie to the pie counter" should Roosevelt be re-elected in November," Carter said:

"Frankly, if the president is re-elected, he will be my president as well as yours, and if there be a pie counter left, we shall reserve the right, even without your gracious permission, to demand and expect for Texas the same treatment accorded any other state in the Union."

The Fort Worth publisher concluded his letter by inviting Ickes to his Texas ranch, "Out where the West begins" when the campaign is over—"If you want to rest from the cares and responsibilities you have and assume."

Denies Political Talks.

Ickes, in his letter to Carter, denied that on his latest Texas trip he had said one word of a political nature, then added that on previous trips he had gone to the state "bearing gifts—rich gifts—not a few of them eloquently solicited by the great editor of Fort Worth—and you never thought of calling me a carpetbagger."

Commenting on his relation to the oil industry, Ickes continued: "As to my wanting to run the oil business of Texas, that also is flapdoodle. No more than I was a 'carpetbagger,' when I was helping to distribute generous chunks of federal money, was I an oil dictator in 1933, when you great, strong, he-men wrung your hands while the price went down to 10 cents a barrel in the East Texas field. I was a fine fellow when I went to Texas, with the backing and helping of the president, to pull you sturdy individualists out of the slough of despond that you yourselves had created."

Irritates Easily.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram today carried a two-column editorial, "Mr. Ickes Irritates Easily," which said the interior secretary could . . . "dish it out—as everybody knows, but evidently he can't take it."

Apologizing for the term "carpetbagger" if the epithet displeases Ickes and does not fit, the newspaper said Ickes has done a "magnificent job" of oil regulation.

Again criticizing Ickes, the editorial says Ickes "reveals a startling concept of his own place in politics and government." This refers to the statement in Ickes' letter which stated that in the past he had brought rich gifts to Texas and was not called a carpetbagger.

The newspaper says allocations to Texas under WPA, etc., were not regarded as gifts, nor Ickes' part other than that of an agent. In the co-operation of local communities and the government each paid its share of the program to provide employment and public improvements.

Reading—"A Parable for Mothers" Miss Minnie Beth Ellett, Powell.

Introductory remarks—C. C. Isbell, superintendent of Blooming Grove schools.

Address—"Our Youth," L. W. Hartsfield, president, Hillsboro College, Hillsboro.

After the program an attractive plate was served by the members of the executive committee.

A business session followed the social hour. Mrs. J. E. Davis presided. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. O. K. Vinson of Corbet gave interesting and helpful reports of the district meeting. Reports of the county officers showed a most successful years' work.

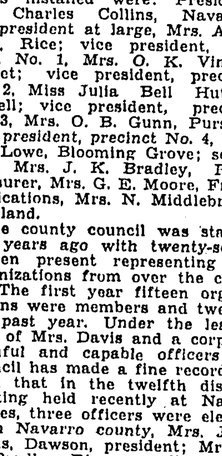

Each meeting this year has been well attended. The first meeting was a luncheon program at the Navarro hotel. Mrs. R. H. Holt, district president, was the principal speaker. The second meeting was at the Kinsloe House with Mrs. V. E. Wheeler of Corsicana speaker. Mrs. Wheeler brought a most helpful and instructive message on mental hygiene.

In the last meeting the new officers installed were: President, Mrs. Charles Collins, Navarro; vice-president at large, Mrs. A. D. Ellis, Rice; vice president, precinct No. 1, Mrs. O. K. Vinson, Corbet; vice president, precinct No. 2, Miss Julia Bell Hutson, Powell; vice president, precinct No. 3, Mrs. O. B. Gunn, Pursley; vice president, precinct No. 4, Mrs. Lee Lowe, Blooming Grove; secretary, Mrs. J. K. Bradley, Rice; treasurer, Mrs. G. E. Moore, Frost; publications, Mrs. N. Middlebrook, Richland.

The county council was started two years ago with twenty-seven women present representing ten organizations from over the county. The first year fifteen organizations were members and twenty, the past year. Under the leadership of Mrs. Davis and a corps of faithful and capable officers the council has made a fine record. So good that in the twelfth district meeting held recently at Nacogdoches, three officers were elected from Navarro county, Mrs. J. E. Davis, Dawson, president; Mrs. J. K. Bradley, Rice, recording secretary and Mrs. G. C. Goodin, Navarro, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Davis holds both a state and a national P.-T. A. procedure certificate and has proved to be a most capable leader in the county. —Reporter.

Many Members 4-H Clubs Attend YMCA Recreation Program

An elaborate program was conducted at the Corsicana YMCA Saturday for approximately 350 4-H Club youths from all sections of the county who attended the annual spring roundup of 4-H Club members.

The organization held a rally session at the Palace theater during the morning and a recreational and social program during the afternoon at the YMCA.

Beauford H. Jester, president of the YMCA, extended a most cordial welcome to the visiting youths. A. P. Bralley, assistant county agent, was in charge of the program at the association.

Noon luncheon was served under the direction of Miss Clara Rettiger and a group of lady club sponsors.
